Local Author writes Character Values with a Biblical Worldview – Wins Many Accolades

Character counts. This message has been echoed by parents and teachers alike. The Adventures of the Sea Kids series has won 18 awards and counting! Naming just a few:

- Illumination Award
- Florida Author's and Publisher's Presidential Award
- Selah Award
- Purple Dragonfly Award
- Benjamin Franklin Award
- Mom's Choice Award
- Reader's Favorite Award
- International Book Finalist (second to a book written by Pope Francis!)

With their captivating stories and delightful illustrations exploding with color, these books are already engaging adults and delighting children. "As a teacher, we are always looking for moral based books. I wish more authors would consider value/Christian topics with great lessons," says Connie Friedland, a teacher at Spanish River Christian School in Florida. Each book includes a bonus of an ichthus (Christian fish symbol) hidden in each picture for the children to find and picture the characters praying.

About the Author:

Lee Ann Mancini received a Masters in Christian Studies from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Cum Laude. She is currently an adjunct professor at South Florida Bible College and Theological Seminary, Deerfield Beach, Fla. Lee Ann speaks to women groups regarding the redemptive power of the gospel represented through the types of brides of the church. Lee Ann was awarded "Woman of Distinction Award" by the Soroptimists International of Boca Raton. Married with two children, Lee Ann loves to read, jog, and teach the Word of God.
